

Great Expectations

(Waiting for the turn of the Year 2010/2011)

Life is embedded in a space of time, in which we are waiting.

Waiting for the very beginning, waiting for mothers breast, waiting for birthdays,
waiting for gifts and gratifikations, waiting for breakfast, lunch and dinner, waiting for the seasons, waiting for examinations and their results, waiting for qualifications, waiting for friendship and love,
waiting for satisfaction, waiting for the waiter or the waitress, waiting for holidays,
waiting for Godot,
waiting for enlightenment,
waiting for the paradise, and waiting for the very end.

Often we where frustrated, and seldom satisfied.
- Is this the meaning of life ?

The insight is,
to resist the feeling of waiting,
every time,
when it arise.
